Article 6.8 / NON-LIABILITY FOR LOSSES

Even if you fail to fulfil your obligations following a Loss, we are required to compensate, on your behalf, the persons in respect of whom you are liable.

Nevertheless, in this case, we retain the right to initiate proceedings against you for the reimbursement of all sums that we will have paid or set aside for you.

Article 6.9 / LEGAL EXPENSES

We cover the costs of proceedings, notification and other settlement expenses. However, if you are convicted for an amount higher than the cover amount, each party will bear these costs proportionate to their respective shares in the conviction.

In addition, the insured is reminded that this cover only applies to any transfers the duration of which does not exceed 90 consecutive days.

Article 7.3 / CALCULATION OF COMPENSATION

Compensation is calculated based on the replacement value on the day of the loss or deducted depreciation, without application of the proportional rule provided for in the French Insurance Code (article L. 121-5)

9. ASSISTANCE AT THE INSURED'S HOME

Article 9.1 / NATURE AND SCOPE OF COVER

For the duration of the renter's trip (French residents only), we will intervene in the following cases:

- Security of the Home following a break-in or burglary: When the Insured's Domicile, following an unexpected event, can no longer be shut or no longer meets normal security conditions, the Assistance provider shall seek and arrange a security guard for a maximum of 3 days, in order to ensure protection of the property. Arrangement of a security guard for a maximum of 3 days.

There are no changes to the other clauses, cover and exclusions of the contract.

11. RETURN TRIP DELAY DUE TO AN EXCEPTIONAL EVENT

Article 11.1 / NATURE AND SCOPE OF COVER

This cover is taken out in addition to the main cover provided for in these terms and conditions and up to the maximum amounts indicated in the above summary of cover table.

The term 'exceptional event' means any natural event, such as an earthquake, volcanic eruption, tidal wave, flood or natural cataclysm, caused by the abnormal intensity of a natural agent, and recognised as such by the public authorities. The definition of 'exceptional event' does not include strikes, political risks, war, civil war, attacks, terrorism, riots and popular movements, and epidemic and pandemics.

If the insured, while on holiday, is unable to return to their usual place of residence on the expected date due to a case of force majeure, the Company covers:

'Costs of extending the stay' is understood as: the cost of accommodation, food, the purchase of essential products (toiletries, children's products, etc.)

Cover will only be granted to the insured if they find it impossible to use another method of transport for their return.

Article 11.2 / LIMIT OF COVER

In any case, compensation cannot exceed the amounts set in the summary of cover table.

Article 11.3 / EXCLUSIONS

All events not indicated in article 1 'Nature and scope of cover' are excluded from this cover.

In addition to the general exclusions included in the following General Provisions, airport closures, whether total or partial, linked to the following events are excluded from this cover:

12. REPATRIATION ASSISTANCE

At the time of the incident, in order to benefit from the full cover defined below, it is imperative that you contact the Insurer's Assistance Centre prior to any intervention. A case number will then be issued, which alone will justify arrangement of the services provided.

Emergency/rescue costs: fees for transport following an accident (once the insured has been found) from the point where the accident occurred to the nearest hospital.

Article 12.2 / IF THE INSURED BECOMES ILL OR SUFFERS FROM A BODILY INJURY

- The Assistance provider's medical team will contact the on-site treating doctor and/or the family doctor in order to intervene in the conditions best suited to the insured's condition.
- The Assistance provider's medical team will organise the transport of the insured person to the medical centre nearest to their domicile or a transfer to a better equipped or more specialised hospital centre.
- Based on the gravity of the situation, only our medical team is authorised to decide on repatriation, the choice of the means of transport, and the place of hospitalisation.
- The insurer will repatriate the insured to their place of residence if the latter is able to leave the medical centre.
- If the insured's condition justifies it, the insurer will organise and take care of the journey of one person who is currently at the holiday destination to allow them to accompany the insured.
- If the insured person's condition does not justify hospitalisation or repatriation and the insured cannot return home on the initially planned date, the Insurer will bear the actual costs incurred for extending the insured's hotel stay, as well as those of a person who will stay at the insured's bedside (the maximum per night and per person is indicated in the summary of cover table), upon submission of supporting documents, excluding catering costs, until the insured's repatriation. The duration of this cover cannot exceed the number of nights indicated in the summary of cover table.

When the insured's state of health so permits, the Insurer will organise and take care of their return as well as, potentially, that of the person who stayed with the insured.

- If the insured is hospitalised and their condition does not justify or indeed prevents immediate repatriation or return, the Insurer will organise the hotel stay of the person that the insured appoints, who is already present at the holiday destination and who will stay at their bedside, and take care of any unforeseen actual expenses incurred up to a maximum per night indicated in the summary of cover table, upon submission of supporting documents, excluding catering costs, until the insured's repatriation. The duration of this cover cannot exceed the number of nights indicated in the summary of cover table.

The insurer will take care of the return of this person, if they cannot use the means initially planned.

- If hospitalisation at the trip's destination lasts for more than 7 days, and if no one stays at the bedside of the insured, the Insurer will provide a return ticket to the person appointed by the insurer, so that this person can travel to be with the insured, only from one of the European Union member countries or Switzerland, and will organise the hotel stay of that person for a maximum per night as indicated in the summary of cover table, upon submission of supporting documents, excluding catering costs. The duration of this cover cannot exceed the number of nights indicated in the summary of cover table.

When the insured's state of health so permits, the Insurer will organise and take care of their return as well as, potentially, that of the person who stayed with the insured.

- If the insured person's state of health prevents them from looking after their minor children and if no adult family member of the insured's family is accompanying them, the Insurer will organise the travel of the person that the insurer appoints to bring the children back to the insured's home.

Article 12.3 / IN THE EVENT OF DEATH

- The Insurer will organise and take care of transport of the body from the place where it is laid in the coffin to the place of burial in one of the European Union member countries, the French overseas departments and regions (DOM/TOM) and overseas communities (COM), as well as sui generis communities, in Monaco or Switzerland. Funeral expenses are covered up to the amount indicated in summary of cover table.
- The insurer will potentially organise and bear the costs for the return to the place of burial of the family members who took part in the same trip and who are covered by this same contract.

Article 12.4 / OTHER ASSISTANCE

Early return:

If the insured is obliged to interrupt their trip due to:

- the death of a family member, the person responsible for taking care of their minor or disabled children, or of their professional substitute,
- hospitalisation due to serious illness or serious bodily injury of their spouse or de facto partner, or first-degree ascendants or descendants who have remained in a European Union member country or in Switzerland and which involves a vital prognosis following notice of the medical report by the treating doctor with the insurer's assistance provider,
- the occurrence of serious damage from fire, explosion, theft or caused by forces of nature in the insured's primary or secondary residence or in their professional premises and which imperatively requires their presence at the premises in question,

The insurer will organise and take care of the return of the insured to their place of residence. If the time limit permits and the presence of the insured is necessary for the continuation of the journey, the insurer will organise and take care of the return of the insured to the place where they can meet up with the other participants of the trip.

Repatriation or transport of other insured persons:

If, following the insured's repatriation, the accompanying persons insured by the same contract wish to be repatriated, the insurer will organise and take care of their return up to a maximum of 4 persons.

Medical expenses abroad:

The insurer will reimburse the insured, following intervention from the French Social Security system and any other insurance body, for the medical, pharmaceutical, surgical and/or hospitalisation expenses prescribed by a doctor, up to the amounts indicated in the summary of cover table.

In all cases, the Insurer will compensate the insured minus the excess, the amount of which is specified in the summary of cover table.

Advance on hospital costs abroad:

If the insured is outside of their country of residence and unable to settle their medical expenses resulting from hospitalisation due to illness or accident occurring during the period of cover, the insurer may, at the request of the insured, make an advance payment to the insured under the following cumulative conditions:

- the insurer's doctors must judge, after collecting information from the local doctor, that it is impossible to repatriate the insured immediately to their country of residence,
- the care to which the advance applies must be prescribed with agreement from the insurer's doctors,
- the insured person or any person authorised by the latter must formally commit, by signing a specific document provided by the insurer during the implementation of this service:
 - to initiating the process of assuming the costs with the insurance agencies (the French Social Security system, mutual insurance agencies) within 15 days from the date of the Insurer sending the documents necessary for this process,
 - to reimburse the Insurer for the sums received for this purpose by the insurance agencies within one week of receipt of such sums.

The Insurer will only be responsible for costs not borne by the insurance agencies, up to the amount expected for the medical services expenses. The Insured must notify the Insurer of the confirmation of uncovered losses originating from these insurance agencies within one week of receipt.

In the absence of having taken the necessary steps to deal with the insurance bodies within the time limit, or failing to present to the Insurer the confirmation of uncovered losses originating from these insurance agencies within the time limit, the insured can under no circumstances claim the 'medical expenses' benefit and must reimburse all hospitalisation costs advanced by the Insurer who will, if necessary, initiate any proceedings to recover such costs if deemed necessary, the costs of which will be borne by the beneficiary.

This cover will cease on the date in which the Insurer is able to repatriate the insured, or the day of return of the insured to their country of origin.

Medical expenses in France:

This cover is valid only for French insured persons who are on holiday in France.

The insurer will reimburse the insured, following intervention from the French Social Security system and any other insurance body, the medical, pharmaceutical, surgical and/or hospitalisation expenses prescribed by a doctor, up to the amounts indicated in the summary of cover table.

In all cases, the Company will compensate the insured minus the excess, the amount of which is specified in the summary of cover table.

Illness or accident of one of the insured's minor or disabled children who remained in their country of residence:

If during the insured's journey, one of their minor or disabled children who remained in their country of residence becomes ill or injured, the Insurer will be at the disposal of the person in charge of looking after the children to organise the child's transportation to a hospital which is most likely to provide the care required by the child's condition, provided that the insured has given written prior authorisation.

The insurer guarantees the return home of the insured's child and will keep the insured informed of the child's condition, if the insured has left a travel address.

If the insured needs to be present, the Insurer will organise their return home.

Emergency costs, including search and rescue, and primary and secondary ski piste rescue costs:

The Insurer will bear the search and rescue and emergency costs up to the amount per person and per event indicated in the summary of cover table, the costs of which corresponding to the operations organised by civilian or military lifeguards or specialised public or private groups in the event of the insured's disappearance or in the event of bodily injury.

Advance payment of funds in the event of theft or loss of payment methods

During their trip abroad, if the insured requires an advance of funds following the loss or theft of their payment methods, the Insurer may agree to an advance payment of funds up to the amount indicated in the summary of cover table and in exchange for a security deposit cheque for the amount corresponding to the advance payment. Acknowledgement of debt shall be claimed to the insured at their holiday destination. The reimbursement of this advance payment must be made within one month following the presentation of the reimbursement request by the Insurer.

Replacement driver

If, as a result of illness or an accident, the insured can no longer drive their vehicle and no passenger is capable of replacing them as driver, the Insurer will provide a driver for a maximum of 3 days, to return the car to the usual place of residence via the most direct route. If the trip is over, the family members will be brought back home in the vehicle.

The insurer will take care of the driver's salary as well as their expenses during the trip. The costs of fuel, tolls, hotels and board for any passengers will remain the responsibility of the latter.

Legal assistance:

The insurer will cover, up to the amount indicated in the summary of cover table, the fees of any legal representatives that the insured may have to bear in order to freely appeal against any action that may be brought against them, provided that the alleged acts do not entail liability for criminal prosecution under the country's legislation.

This cover does not apply to events relating to the insured's professional activity or the care and/or use of a motor vehicle.

Advance of cost of bail:

If, in the event of a breach of the laws of the country in which the insured is located, the latter is obliged by the authorities to pay a bail, the Insurer will make an advance payment of this up to the amount indicated in the summary of cover table.

The reimbursement of this advance payment must be made within one month following the presentation of the reimbursement request by the Insurer. If the bail is refunded to the insured before this period by the country's Authorities, it must be immediately returned to the Insurer.

Article 12.5 / LIMITATIONS OF THE ASSISTANCE PROVIDER'S LIABILITY

Interventions that the Insurer is required to perform are carried out in full compliance with national and international laws and regulations. The interventions are therefore related to the obtaining of the necessary authorisations by the relevant authorities.

- If the Insured refuses to follow the decisions taken by the Insurer's medical team, they will release the Insurer from any liability in relation to the consequences of such an initiative and the insured person will lose any right to services or compensation.
- Under no circumstances can the insurer take the place of the local emergency services or bear the costs there incurred.
- The insurer cannot be held liable for delays or impediments in the performance of services agreed in the event of strikes, riots, popular movements, restrictions on free movement, sabotage, terrorism, civil or foreign war, the effects of radiation or any other unforeseeable or force majeure event.
- The benefits not claimed during travel or not organised by the Insurer will not give rise to any compensating allowance.
- The insurer will decide on the type of tickets available to the insured depending on, on the one hand, the possibilities offered by the transport companies, and on the other hand, the duration of the journey.
- This cover will take effect from the day of departure and will expire on the day of return for the duration indicated in the trip's registration form, for a maximum of 90 days. The maximum liability of the insurer in the event of a claim is defined in the summary of cover table.
- If the Insured is domiciled in a country other than one of the European Union member countries, a DOM-TOM, COM and sui generis community, or in Monaco or Switzerland, the Insurer may, upon the insured's request, repatriate the latter to their home or the nearest, best equipped or most specialised Medical Centre. In this case, the insured agrees to pay the Insurer the excess cost of their repatriation in comparison with a repatriation carried out under these same conditions in Mainland France.

Article 12.6 / EXCLUSIONS OF COVER

In addition to the exclusions provided for in the Terms and Conditions, the Insurer's cover cannot be requested in the following cases:

- An atypical pneumonia or severe acute respiratory syndrome (SARS, COVID), avian influenza or the A-H1N1 flu, as well as any pandemic or epidemic recognised by national or international health organisations,
- When damage or accidents result from the use of a two-wheeled motorised land vehicle, a jet ski or a snow scooter,

IN THE EVENT OF A LOSS

WHAT ARE YOUR OBLIGATIONS IN THE EVENT OF A LOSS?

When Insurance cover comes into play, the insured person must:

Advise Gritchen Affinity in writing of any losses that would invoke the cover contained in the insurance contract within five working days (brought forward to two working days in the event of theft).

These timeframes will begin once the insured discovers the loss that would involve the arrangement of cover. Once this timeframe has passed, the insured will be deprived of any right to compensation if the delay caused damage to the Company.

- if you do not have these documents or this information, you must convey this information to your treating physician and send us the information using the pre-printed envelope described above,
- you must also send us the transmission of these additional documents, which must be done using a pre-printed envelope on behalf of the consulting physician, and any information or documents that you may be asked for in order to justify the reason for your cancellation, including:

In any case, you will be automatically requested to provide the original copies of the detailed invoices from the organiser which feature the land-based services.

- Send the Company all documents necessary to open the case and to also prove the legitimacy of the case and the claim amount.
- In any case, the insured must provide proof of closure of the airport(s) and provide supporting documents for the additional costs borne.

LUGGAGE/SPORTS EQUIPMENT

In the event of loss or deterioration of luggage entrusted to a transport company, or theft committed in a hotel, a damage report must be drawn up by the transport company's or hotel's qualified representative (with the exception of the representative of the trip's organiser). Failure to submit this report will lead to a reduction in the compensation corresponding to the amount that must be returned to the Company in accordance with the recourse that the Company would have to exercise against the transport company or the hotel, in addition, in the event of theft, and to file a complaint as soon as possible with the police authorities of the country of origin nearest to the location of the crime,

- If this recovery took place after paying the compensation, the insured may decide to take the luggage against reimbursement of the compensation received, subject to deduction of deteriorations or shortfalls. The insured has 15 days to make their choice. After this timeframe, the Company will consider the insured to have relinquished their compensation.

The lost or damaged goods that the Company will compensate the insured for will become the Company's property.

CIVIL LIABILITY

In the event of loss, the insurer has the sole right to negotiate with damaged third parties, within the limit of their cover, and no acknowledgement of liability would be enforceable against the insurer.

Admission of a tangible event, as well as a natural act, from the insurance team, does not constitute an acknowledgement of liability.

The insured must:

- send the Company, as soon as they receive these, any notices, letters, summons, appointments, extrajudicial acts and proceedings documents that will have been sent to the insured, delivered or notified personally or to their beneficiaries.
- in the event of a delay in the transmission of these documents, the Company may claim for a compensation proportionate to the resulting damage (article L. 113-2 of the French Insurance Code).

- communicate to the Company, upon simple request and without delay, all documents necessary for their report.
- declare to the Company the existence of any other insurance contract which covers the same risk.

ASSISTANCE

At the time of the incident, in order to benefit from the cover defined below, it is imperative that you contact the Company's Assistance Centre prior to any provision of services. A case number will then be issued, which alone will justify arrangement of the services provided. The Company's Assistance Centre is available 24 hours a day:

The contact details of the Company's Assistance team are specified in the summary of cover table.

The insured must clarify their contract number, the type of assistance they require and the address and telephone number where they can be reached. The insured must also allow doctors authorised by the Company access to all medical information concerning the person in question.

- include with their declaration:
- their insurance certificate and their case number assigned by the Assistance Centre

- any document necessary to investigate the case, upon simple request by the Company and without delay.

When the Company has taken care of the insured's transport, the latter must send to the Company the unused ticket of their initially planned return trip.

the Subscriber insofar as they would be able to exercise subrogation.

Article 32/ LIMITATION OF PROCEEDINGS DERIVING FROM THE INSURANCE CONTRACT

The limitation period is the period beyond which no complaint will be considered.

Any action deriving from this contract is limited by two years as of the event it gave rise to.

Article L. 114-1 of the French Insurance Code:

'All legal actions arising from an insurance contract shall be barred two years as from the event that gave rise thereto.

However, said time limit shall run:

1. in the event of non-disclosure, omission, fraudulent representation or misrepresentation of the risk incurred, only as from the date on which the insurer is aware thereof;

2. in the event of loss, only as from the date the concerned parties are aware thereof, if they prove that they were unaware of such facts up till then.

When the insured's action against the insurer arises from a third party's recourse, the limitation period shall run only from the date on which said third party brings a legal action against the insured or the latter has paid it compensation.

The limitation period shall be increased to ten years for life insurance contract when the beneficiary is not the policyholder and in insurance contracts covering personal injury when the beneficiaries are the deceased insured's assignees.

For life insurance contracts, notwithstanding the provisions of point 2, the actions of the beneficiary are limited to no later than thirty years as of the death of the insured.'

The limitation period may be interrupted as provided for in article L. 114-2 of the French Insurance Code:

Article L. 114-2 of the French Insurance Code:

'The limitation period shall be interrupted by one of the ordinary causes that interrupt the limitation period and by the appointment of experts following a loss. The limitation period of the legal action may also be interrupted by the insurer sending the insured a registered letter with acknowledgement of receipt in respect of the action for payment of the premium and by the insured to the insurer in respect of the settlement of the claim.'

Article L. 114-3 of the French Insurance Code:

‘Notwithstanding article 2254 of the French Civil Code, the parties to the insurance contract may not, even with mutual agreement, modify the duration of the time limit nor add to the reasons for suspension or interruption of it.’

The ordinary causes for interrupting the time limit as mentioned in article L. 114-2 are those provided for in articles 2240 to 2246 of the French Civil Code, indicated below:

Article 2240 of the French Civil Code: ‘The acknowledgement by the debtor of the right of the person against whom he was prescribing interrupts the period of prescription.’

Article 2241 of the French Civil Code: ‘Judicial demand, even by way of summary proceedings, interrupts the delay of prescription and the delay of foreclosure.

The same occurs when the demand is brought before a court without jurisdiction when the act of referral to the court is annulled on account of a procedural defect.’

Article 2242 of the French Civil Code: ‘The interruption resulting from the judicial demand has continuous effect until the proceedings terminate.’

Article 2243 of the French Civil Code: ‘Interruption fails to occur if the plaintiff abandons his judicial demand or allows the proceedings to lapse, or if the demand is definitively rejected.’

Article 2244 of the French Civil Code: ‘The period of prescription or the period of foreclosure is also interrupted by a conservatory measure taken in application of the Code of Civil Enforcement Procedures or of an act of forced execution.’

Article 2245 of the French Civil Code: ‘The calling in of one solidary debtor by judicial demand, or by an act of forced execution, or by the acknowledgement by the debtor of the right of the person against whom he was prescribing, interrupts the period of prescription against all the others, even against their heirs.

But the calling in of one of the heirs of a solidary debtor, or the acknowledgement by that heir does not interrupt the prescription against co-heirs, even in the event of a hypothecary claim, if the obligation is divisible.

This calling in or this acknowledgement only interrupts the period of prescription against the other co-debtors for the share for which this heir is bound.

To interrupt the period of prescription for the whole, for all the other co-debtors, the calling in must be addressed to all the heirs of the deceased debtor or the acknowledgement must be addressed to all these heirs.’

Article 2246 of the French Civil Code: ‘A calling in addressed to the principal debtor or his acknowledgement interrupts the period of prescription against the surety.’
